

BIBLICAL THEOLOGY (BLTH)

BLTH 904 Scripture, Revelation, and Interpretation 3 Credit Hour(s)

An examination of the doctrine of scripture with attention to its canonicity, inspiration, inerrancy, and authority. This course will also consider other such issues as the nature of divine revelation, religious language, speech act theory, methods in interpretation. The course will consider methodological presuppositions, as well as the application and results of such methods through history.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 910 Old Testament Theology 3 Credit Hour(s)

An examination of major theological themes in the Old Testament, including but not limited to, creation, Israel, covenants, sin, the Law, justice, and wisdom. Attention will be given to major approaches to the selected themes with a goal of critically analyzing said approaches.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 915 New Testament Theology 3 Credit Hour(s)

An examination of major theological themes in the New Testament, including but not limited to, the kingdom of God, Christology, the Holy Spirit, salvation and atonement, sin, faith, the Law, justification/justice, and love. Attention will be given to major approaches to the selected themes with a goal of critically analyzing said approaches.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 922 The Theology of the Torah 3 Credit Hour(s)

A seminar examining the theological themes expressed in the Pentateuch and how these themes are developed in the larger canon of Christian Scripture.

Registration Restrictions: Admission to PhD in Theology and Apologetics degree

Offered: Resident

BLTH 925 Theology of the Gospel 3 Credit Hour(s)

An examination of the gospel in the context of the entire biblical narrative. Special attention will be given to examining the gospel in the Old Testament, situating the New Testament proclamation of the gospel in its historical-cultural attention as well as upon the connections of the Old Testament covenants to the proclamation of the gospel in the New Testament.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 935 Theology of Paul 3 Credit Hour(s)

A seminar examining the theological themes expressed in the epistles of the Apostle Paul.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 968 Current Biblical and Theological Issues 3 Credit Hour(s)

A study of biblical and theological issues of contemporary significance. Attention will be given to the present-day representatives along with their literature and influence upon current Christianity.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 993 Readings in Biblical Theology and Comprehensive Examination 3 Credit Hour(s)

Analysis of the major primary sources and scholarly research of Biblical Theology leading toward a comprehensive examination.

Registration Restrictions: Once the student completes 15 hours of the Major Area of Focus, the student can be registered for the Major Area of Focus Directed Research and Comprehensive Examination course. Once the student completes 9 hours of the Major Area of Focus, the student can be registered for the Minor Area of Focus Directed Research and Comprehensive Examination course. Must be approved by the Director of the PhD in Biblical Studies or the PhD in Theological Studies.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 996 Special Topics in Biblical Theology 3 Credit Hour(s)

An intensive study in a specific topic of interest related to Biblical Theology. The emphasis in this study will be on directed reading and research in the designated topic.

Offered: Resident

BLTH 997 Seminar in Biblical Theology 3 Credit Hour(s)

An intensive study in a specific subject of the Biblical Theology. This course allows variation in the approach and content of the regular curriculum with an emphasis on current readings in secondary literature in the field of study.

Offered: Resident