

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDIES (INDS)

INDS 500 Introduction to Interdisciplinary Studies 1 Credit Hour(s)

This course is designed to provide a comprehensive introduction to graduate interdisciplinary studies and writing skills. It is intended for those with limited exposure in the area of graduate interdisciplinary studies and to provide a foundation for cross-disciplinary analysis and application. This course will examine interdisciplinary studies knowledge, research methods, and writing techniques.

Offered: Online

INDS 600 Interdisciplinary Research 3 Credit Hour(s)

Online Prerequisite: INDS 500

Students will synthesize scholarly research from both of their areas of study to produce an interdisciplinary research project on an approved topic. Must be taken at the end of the MA Interdisciplinary Studies program or prior to the thesis sequence for the MA Interdisciplinary Research program.

Offered: Online