

MILITARY SCIENCE (MISC)

MISC 501 Research, Doctrine, and Leadership 3 Credit Hour(s)

Non-material solutions and research methods in Military Operations, doctrine, and leadership.

Offered: Online

MISC 502 Command Leadership 3 Credit Hour(s)

Examination and application of command leadership processes.

Offered: Online

MISC 503 Virtues of Ethical Leadership 3 Credit Hour(s)

Exploration of biblical stewardship for the shaping of ethical leaders.

Offered: Online

MISC 504 Leadership in Context 3 Credit Hour(s)

Using historical case studies for military leadership, students analyze the convictions, disciplines, successes, and failures of those who have lead well in their fields.

Offered: Online

MISC 520 Military Intelligence 3 Credit Hour(s)

The application of joint intelligence doctrine and architecture for joint warfighting assessments that support military operations.

Offered: Online

MISC 530 Military Operations 3 Credit Hour(s)

The development of operational doctrines for combatant commanders and communication networks between parties.

Offered: Online

MISC 540 Military Logistics 3 Credit Hour(s)

Analysis of the two cross-functional groups of operational logistics and strategic logistics for planning, execution of joint operations, and maximizing force readiness.

Offered: Online

MISC 550 Military Planning 3 Credit Hour(s)

Evaluation of policy and planning processes that make up strategic plans. Includes trends, assessments, and recommendations for responding to the ambiguous nature of the worldwide landscape.

Offered: Online

MISC 695 Directed Research in Military Science 3 Credit Hour(s)

Directed research in military sciences or related discipline.

Offered: Online

MISC 697 Special Topics in Military Science 3 Credit Hour(s)

Special topics in military sciences or related discipline.

Offered: Online